

Alex May

In an interesting turnabout, a new DüWag light-rail car set destined for the San Diego Trolley heads for that city piggyback-style down U.S. route 58 near Caliente, Calif., on May 18, 1989. The set is part of a 15-car order intended for the Trolley's new East Line, which opened recently. The cars—which are proven technology (see below)—are manufactured in DüWag, Seldorf, West Germany, and assembled in Sacramento, Calif.